FORM FILLING INSTRUCTIONS:

Information of the dog's keeper

The keeper of the dog must enter their own information. A keeper refers to a natural person or legal entity who has possession of the dog. There may be one keeper or several jointly responsible keepers, but only one of them is responsible for marking the dog and submitting its information to the registry. The keeper's personal identity code or business ID is used as the unique identifier. For invoicing purposes, the type of business ID must also be specified. Sole proprietors must also provide the personal identity code of the responsible person.

Do not submit any information subject to a non-disclosure for personal safety. However, please provide your contact address or e-invoice address for invoicing the registration fee.

Providing contact details (phone number, email address) is not mandatory, but in case the dog goes missing, the fastest way to reach you is if your contact information is up to date in the dog registry.

Information of the dog

- The dog's name is entered as reported by the dog keeper. If you wish, you may also enter the name given by the dog's breeder in the designated field.
- The dog's date of birth, or if unknown, an estimated date of birth is entered in the field.
- The dog's country of birth is entered if it is other than Finland.
- The ID code (number of the microchip) Enter the microchip identification code, which is a 15-digit number. You can find the microchip number, for example, on the dog's identification or registration certificate. If you do not have these documents, you can have the microchip read by a veterinarian.
- The breed specified in a separate certificate by a breed association is entered in the field 'Breed'. For example, 'other' can be entered as the dog's breed. In this case, you will also fill out the fields 'Size' and 'If mixed breed, description of the visual characteristics', where you can describe the dog's characteristics in your own words.
- The colour of the dog is entered in accordance with the colour coding used in the Dog Registry. At least the dog's main colour should become evident.

Information of the microchip setter

Here, you will enter the name and address of the person who has set the microchip and the date of setting the chip if these are known. The fields can be left blank if necessary.

Keeper's signature

The keeper or their representative (when using Business ID) signs the form.
